“ Heaven has surely gained an Angel. She was my son's 2nd grade teacher. I still remember the speech she gave the students on the last day of school. She called them all in a circle, told them how much she had enjoyed being their teacher. She gave them encouragement for the next year and then told them she would always be there for them and that they could call her any time day or night because she loved them. I had never heard a more heart felt speech.
Praying for God' a comfort for her family.
