“ I have so many wonderful memories that are blessed with my pawpaw in them. If you were one of his grandkids you know how he would always offer you a quarter to eat a pepper or drink buttermilk. This how I love hot food is explained. Always helping him on the farm to working on the new house to going camping with him. He always would have some of the silliest things to say to make you laugh I will miss that a lot. He was my greatest father figure a person could have. I will you dearly and never forget you.

Love always
