“ Oh, babe. I genuinely thought I would see you again in the South some day. So many memories of our dumb high school selves screaming Temple of the Dog songs into the night. You're one of very few people I even remember from those days. Much love.

“ My very deepest sympathy for the whole family at this time of great loss. I'm so thankful that I got to know Cindy and the rest of your family when you came to Minnesota for our family reunion. Loved the fact that you stayed for a few days so we really got to know each of you. Every time my birthday comes around, I always think of all of you and the great memory of Joey and I celebrating our birthdays together. I miss all of you and pray that Cindy is now resting in the loving arms of our Lord and Savior. May she rest in peace. Love and hugs to the rest of you.

“ Cindy, aka Olga, I keep thinking about all of the things we got ourselves into back in high school.... Whether it was the great cracker challenge, or putting mints in your brothers mouth when he was sleeping... we had a great time.

I had huge laugh at the memory when we snuck out of the house, sorry Lee and Karen, we totally snuck out. We used the trash can as a ladder to get over the fence.... ha ha ha. I ended up stepping on the lid wrong and almost fell into it, it made a huge noise! We thought for sure that we were busted! It was a great night though! Totally worth getting caught!

Here's one for the whole family... remember the Northridge Earthquake? I had stayed the night and we all ended up in your parent's room watching the news to see if there would be another after shock. I'm pretty sure there was a dog bone incident story in there... I swear we weren't eating them... lol... maybe.

I'll miss you girl... I know I have pictures somewhere... I'll find them.

*Love ya forever,
Kristen, aka Inga*
