“ She has been one of the most interesting women I have ever met. Aunt JoAnne was a very special person, a woman of strong character and good heart. She lived for her family, and always kept in her memories the image of her beloved husband Joe. She always had the deference to participate in the Harrison family activities, and although she was an excellent cook, in these meetings, she loved to ask if I had prepared the chocolate cake, the one she liked. Everybody in the family miss you, but we know that now you are in the company of God and Joe, your beloved life partner.
