“ My first acquaintance of Lee was when my wife and I moved in next door. I found Lee and Martha to be great neighbors and good friends. We would visit with Lee and Martha and Lee and I would play our guitars.

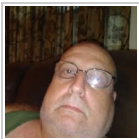

I was going to Burns Nursing Home every Friday and playing my guitar and singing for the residents. One Friday when I arrived to play I was blessed to see my old friend, Lee Holt there and he was looking forward to the music. Every Friday at 2 pm I go and play and sing and Lee was always in there for the singing. Lee loved music. He would always say, "Sherman play and sing 'I'll Fly Away.'" Lee was a good friend and joy to be in his company. He will be missed by his family, but he will also be missed by many friends.

“ Lee always loved to work with his garden and wood working projects as a family effort. He also was an example of faithful commitment to worshiping and fellowshiping with his church family every time they met. Family was important to him both physically and spiritually. Toward the end of his earthly journey his favorite and most requested song was "I'll Fly Away." As God breathed his existence into this world for an appointed time, so did he call him home to fly away to a peaceful rest promised to God's faithful children.
