“ I will always remember how he and Allon would plow their field with the mules, Phillip might have had a few rounds of that too. Never forget the night we got in their basement to ride out the tornados- possibly the night over 200 tornados hit Alabama. They had potatoes drying out that Kathryn had fixed as potato chips, think we all nearly ate all of them that night. They saw a tornado pass over us but us kids couldn't see it. God's blessings of comfort and peace will carry your family through this storm too! God bless your family!
