“ mamaw, i'm already missing you like crazy. i'm really at a loss for words. you were my world. you were my bestfriend. you were the person i could tell absolutely anything to. you always knew what to say and how to say it. you always knew how to cheer me up. you were constantly in pain but you were so strong that you fought through it every single day. you were my person. i spent a lot of time with you but i wish i would've spent way more. i'm so glad that you're not suffering anymore but i'm so sad that you're not here with us anymore. you were the best mamaw in the world and i told you that all the time and you knew it! i always knew who to go to when i was upset or just needed to talk to. my life doesn't feel the same without you in it and i don't think it ever will. i love & miss you more than anything. i can't wait to see you again, my beautiful angel.

“ I remember Melba as a child. She and my daughter, Sherry were best friends. Her mom, Patsy and I were best friends and our families spent many hours together. She was such a sweet little girl! Melba and Donna were like my own as our children grew up together. A few years later we moved to Georgia and our families lost touch. Then one day, many years later, at a funeral, Melba walked in. What a wonderful surprise! She was still as sweet as when she was a child. Now she's moved to her mansion in Heaven. I know she's being welcomed by Jesus and her Daddy who she's missed for many years. I'm sure there's a happy reunion going on right now. Rest In Peace, Melba! You've earned your wings! We'll see you again soon!
