“ I am saddened to find that Kay has passed away. My name is Royce Wood, and grew up as her next door neighbor. We rode the school bus together for years. Mr. King drove slow and changed gears at the exact same point. Engines and exhausts were much more distinctive back then. There was no air conditioning back then, and it was just as hot, no matter what the Climate people would have us believe. There is something about growing up with others that gives a permanent emotional attachment. My Childhood was filled with abuse, and life since has been difficult. I understood that she was treated as the baby Sister. I did talk to her at the road a while back, and she told me that she had suffered a heart attack. I see through her Tribute that her life was very good. I am proud for that. She deserved that.
